Please explain:

It may be helpful to note that due to the nature of living in a residence hall community, a request for a quiet hall is not a medical accommodation that can be met. Additionally, because a residence hall is shared by hundreds of students participating in various activities throughout the day, living in a single room does not necessarily provide a student with a quiet, distraction free environment.

Does the student's disability require any medical devices or equipment? If so what is the size, dimension, special needs of the equipment (wattage, etc.).

I verify that the above-named student information is correct, and that the student is a patient that I have been treating, and that I am not a relative of the student.
